Instructions:

1. Color the crane however you would like.
   Do you know the parts of the crane? It looks kind of like a little car, but it has tracks (instead of tires). The part with the door is called the cab and the part by the door is the engine. The long part that sticks up is called the boom.

2. Get out your scissors and some clear tape.
3. Cut along the solid lines, then fold along the dotted lines and tape in place. Ask an adult if you need help with the scissors.

   To fold and tape the wide strip in the middle:
   --Position the fold lines nearest to the track so that they are inside the curves above the track and tape in place.
   --Bring the ends around, following the cab and engine, and tape in place.

   To fold and tape the boom:
   --Tape the long, skinny middle strip to the top portions of the boom.
   --Tape the bottom of the boom together.
   --Fold and tape the longer strip at the bottom of the boom onto the top of the cab/engine section.
   --Fold the short tab and tape to hold the boom in place.

4. Play with your crane!

Leading the Future of Alaska’s Construction Industry

The Construction Leadership Council was formed to cultivate the future leaders of Alaska’s Construction industry. Through development of strong professional relationships, the group will expand and enhance growth and development of Alaskan communities, carrying forward the tradition of excellence.

Who Should Join?
Those interested in development of Alaska’s construction industry.

CLC Goals

- Professional Development
  Provide quality education programs to our members.

- Networking and Social Events
  Give young professionals opportunities to network with peers and other industry organizations.

- Community Projects
  Provide opportunities for giving back to Alaska.

- Information
  Provide access to current industry trends and regulations.

- The Future of AGC
  Aid the industry by highlighting future leaders, supporters and voices.

Congratulations to our 2019 Coloring Contest Winner, Faith!
