Sharen Walsh is the Port of Alaska Modernization Program Director, overseeing the planning, programming, design and construction of the various phases of the work. Phase I, construction of a new Petroleum and Cement Terminal, is well underway, scheduled for completion in late 2021. Phase II, replacement of the 2200 foot general cargo wharf, is progressing through concept design, as talks continue with major port users. Ms. Walsh was appointed to this position in early 2020, having previously served as Deputy Director of the Port. She is a lifelong Alaskan and a licensed civil engineer.
